

"We find our way
everywhere"
—Ches. Field

AND no wonder! For into Chesterfields—an inexpensive cigarette—is crowded more real tobacco
value than you'd think possible. Satisfy?

You said it!

NUECES COUNTY CHICKENS WIN CUPS AT SHOW

County Cups Awarded by Kazmeier at Annual Poultry Show.

$50 cash award went to residents of Nueces County at the seventh annual poultry show of the Nueces County Poultry and Pet Stock Association. F. W. Kazmier of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College, who was sent here as judge by the college, awarded the cups.

The living cups went to the following: Frank C. Allen for three month old pullets; Dr. D. A. Schaefer for male broiler flocks; E. C. Moore for White Leghorns; J. F. Herold for Blue & white; E. C. Moore for solid colored males, which was won with a White Leghorn; and Dr. D. A. Schaefer for partly colored males, which was won with a Rhode Island Red.

Many Corpus Christians visited the show during the day and after dark, most of the visitors being children, who open the gates at 50 cents. No admission is being charged and many persons passed through the aisles lined with cages containing the live chickens, South Texas flocks, the last day of the show.

Texas Pool Hall
Law is Declared
Strictly Valid

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 11.—Federal Judge James C. Wilkes today declared the validity of the Texas pool hall law, which imposed an order delaying the restraining order and denying the temporary injunction asked for on the part of the pool hall owners several weeks ago, but the life of the pool halls may be continued for while at least should the court decide to preserve the status quo of the case, following its application to this session of the Texas legislature to extend the law.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a general meeting of the association will be held in the court house on DeSoto street. The members of the association have sufficient to their credit that they will be exceptionally large attendance of land owners from all over the Valley.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Residents of Corpus Christi plead guilty yesterday to the preliminary hearing before J. S. Meador, United States Commissioner, sitting at the post office, and were fined or given a short prison sentence in return for which they agreed never to talk about it.

John W. Robinson is the first Corpus Christi to receive a Victory Bonus from the local recruiting station of the United States Army.

A play will be given by the students of the State Normal High School in the first and middle schools at assembly time. It will probably be given just Thanksgiving. Miss Anna Garrett is in charge of it.

Born Sunday, to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson, 1918, Agnes street, a son.

Fire Protection
Here Good, State
Marshal Claims

S. W. English, commissioner, and G. C. Marshall, and A. M. Vaughan, engineer, were in Corpus Christi yesterday in regard to present fire protection.

"We find everything in satisfactory condition and think that the city has done exceptionally well since the storm," said Mr. English yesterday. "Mr. English said several others.

The key site on fire insurance determined by the state, will not be changed here, they announced. At this rate is 25 cents, which puts Corpus Christi in the first class regarding fire insurance. San Antonio has had rates in the state for 89 years being cut 10 cents.

The key rate is arrived at by an examination of 100 municipalities that lie in bordering oil fields in Texas. This has determined itself, water, washing, and water piping, peeling which requires the runs of the fire department, and many other conditions, into the value of a city. "This is the same object," said Mr. Vaughan. "We must get a rate the size of Corpus Christi."

This key rate is added to the basic insurance written for determined by insurance factors in each case, such as the contents of the buildings, proximity to a water system and other factors which help to protect it from fire. In the case of residences, only one-half of the key rate is added to the premium.

UNITED MINE WORKERS
URGED TO RESUME
WORK.

(Continued from Page One.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 11.—G. Krauth, president of the Marion Shale and Coal miners, who organized to be a Western Falls, Texas, oil man, lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the Ross hotel at Marion, near here, this morning.

The fire is thought to have started from an oil stove.

H. L. Ross, proprietor of the hotel, and John Dawson and a daughter of Mr. Ross were badly burned.

Two other operators suffocated.

Directors Rural Land Association to Meet Tomorrow

All of the directors of the Rural Land Owners Association who live at this end of the district will be in Corpus Christi this afternoon for a special meeting of the directors there tomorrow morning.

The meeting is planned to hold the position of vice-chairman of directors of the association at a special conference tomorrow, just before the general directors meeting, but matters of vital importance that have come up demand that the meeting be held for a longer period of time than one hour.

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, a general meeting of the association will be held in the court house on DeSoto street. The members of the association have sufficient to their credit that there will be exceptionally large attendance of land owners from all over the Valley.

The Liberty Theatre will open Saturday, December 14th, showing "The Heart of Humanity."

Club Organized by Choir Members

The First Presbyterian Church which had eight organists into a club at a meeting held at the home of Dr. Harold Lindquist, the pastor, at North Broadway and Beaumont streets. The club will meet once a month, although the choir will continue to hold weekly practices every Friday night.

The officially elected last night are:

President, Mrs. G. L. Caldwell; vice president, Mrs. J. Sullivan; secretary, Harry Carter; treasurer, Miss Anna Franklin; and organizer, Mr. Lindquist.

The members are: Sophie, Miss Adeline Nease, Miss Anna Franklin, Miss Sam Hartke, Miss Catherine Redmond, Miss Myrtle Spiekerback, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. E. L. Caldwell and Harry Carter; also Mrs. Howell Caldwell, houses George Grim and C. C. Jones, and Dennis, Mr. C. Caldwell and J. W. Kirkpatrick.

represent practically the entire industry concentrated in Washington awaiting official confirmation of the settlement. There was considerable doubt initially and differences of opinion by the coalitions were held to determine definite definitions of policy and some could not be agreed upon until the government came along. All were interested in having from home as to the action of the mining locals on the union order called off the strike, but received little information.

Only the miners' share of cost-saving orders came today from the railroad administration, allowing certain states to remain open even though the miners' strike had been declared. The orders will be maintained on other days. Well informed officials hold the opinion that most of the restrictions now called off will have to remain effective until about January 20, even though the miners go back at once in a body.

The strike is thought to have started from an oil stove.

H. L. Ross, proprietor of the hotel, and John Dawson and a daughter of Mr. Ross were badly burned.

Two other operators suffocated.

Two other operators suffocated.

Arkansas Miners' May Refuse to Go Back to the Mines

By The Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 11.—A dispute from Fort Smith tonight said that orders to return to work had been issued by all road unions of the United Mine Workers today and that it was expected that the same would resume tomorrow morning.

A dispute from Clarksville, Arkansas, said that the miners of that section would refuse to return to work unless Governor Beaman withdrew his request for the resignation of Thomas Shaw, state mine inspector. This point could not be verified, however.

Bank President
Loses His Life
During a Fire

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 11.—G. Krauth, president of the Marion Shale and Coal miners, who organized to be a Western Falls, Texas, oil man, lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the Ross hotel at Marion, near here, this morning.

The fire is thought to have started from an oil stove.

H. L. Ross, proprietor of the hotel, and John Dawson and a daughter of Mr. Ross were badly burned.

Two other operators suffocated.

Two other operators suffocated.